

Sandra R. Hughes is a certified Business Strategy and Leadership coach in areas of Risk Management and Information Governance. She retired in 2012 after a career spanning 30+ years with Procter & Gamble, the worlds largest consumer products company. In her last decade Sandy served as Global Privacy Executive, in addition to leading global programs in Ethics & Compliance, Information Governance, Social Media Policy and Competitive Intelligence. In 2012 the International Association of Privacy Professionals (IAPP) recognized her with the Vanguard Award for best Corporate Practitioner and the Executive Women's Forum (EWF) with a Lifetime Achievement Award as a Woman of Influence. Sandy serves as Secretary on the corporate board for the Future of Privacy Forum, VP Finance & Administration for the International Coach Federation Ohio Valley, and the advisory boards for International Privacy Day and Executive Women's forum. She is also the Chairman of Social Venture Partners Cincinnati, an engaged philanthropy organization elevating the success of innovative charities within the community. Most recently Venue Magazine recognized Sandy as a 2014 Cincinnati Woman of Influence. She is a proud member of the International Coach Federation, having achieved Associate Coach Certification in February 2015.